Union Submits Petition For Recognition As Bargaining Agency

NATIONAL BOARD TO MAKE DECISION

Molding Machine Workers Withdraw Protest; Plant To Resume Monday

Max W. Johnstone of Cleveland, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board, conducted a hearing at the postoffice this morning on a petition of the International Brotherhood of Foundry Employees for recognition as bargaining agent for about 120 employees in the enameling department of the National Sanitary Co.

The examiner heard testimony presented by enamel department employees, Louis Probst, vice president of the company, and Lawrence J. Brick of Alliance, vice president and organizer of the foundry employees' brotherhood.

Willing To Meet With Workers

Each recalled committee conferences in Probst's office concerning the proposal to form a union, the employees admitting that the employer always was willing to meet with the workers.

Organizer Brick, a former Salem man, came to the city several weeks ago and has held a series of meetings in an effort to organize a local of his brotherhood in the enameling department of the Sanitary plant.

In his petition to the labor board to conduct a hearing, he claimed 79 employees had joined Local No. 194 of his union. At the hearing he did not announce the exact number of members.

The company's contention, in requesting dismissal of the petition, is that one department does not represent all of the 600 employees in the plant and that if there is to be a union it should bargain for all employees, instead of having separate bargaining agencies for the several departments.

Creat S. Smith of Cleveland, NLRB official who set the hearing date, said the union is independent of both the CIO and AFL. Its president is said to be E. M. Curry, who in 1932 was a candidate for congressman on the Communist ticket in the Kalamazoo district of Michigan.

National Board To Decide

Johnstone's report will go to Washington for a final decision. If the board grants the union's petition, a "yes" and "no" election will be authorized for employees to determine whether they want the local to be their bargaining agency with the management.

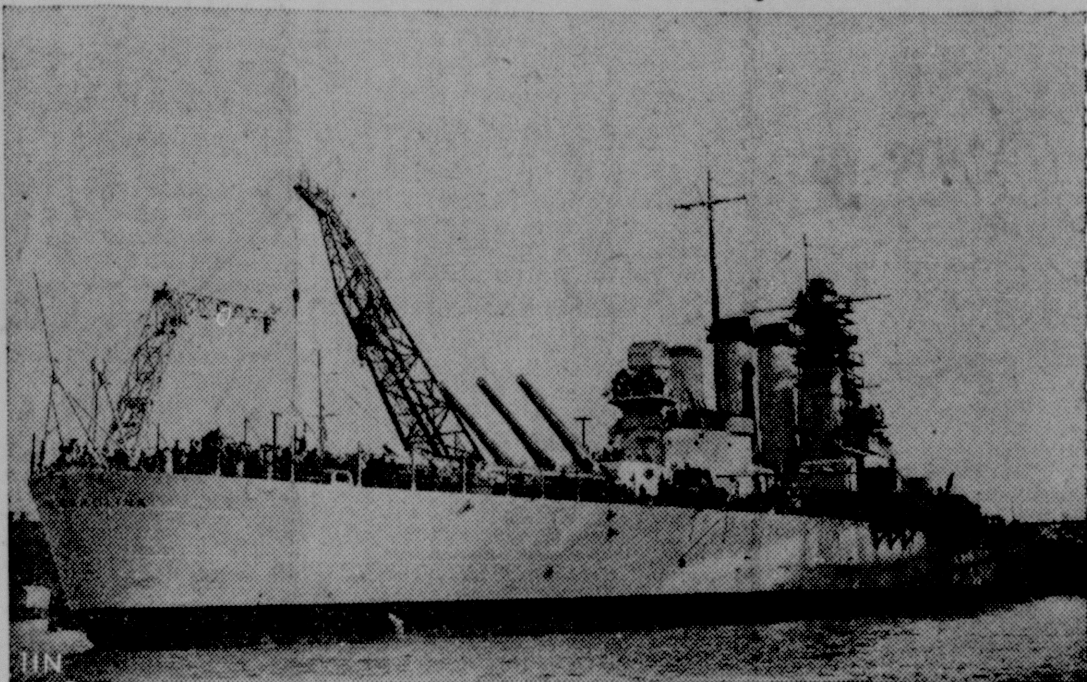

If the board supports the company's contention that the union should represent all departments of the plant, the petition will be dismissed, Johnstone said.

Any request for oral arguments or the filing of briefs in the matter must be made within five days after today's hearing, the examiner said.

After conferring with company officials, late yesterday, the molding machine workers held a meeting last night and decided to withdraw their protest regarding the dismissal of a workman.

Company officials stated today that the plant would resume operations in all departments Monday, April 14.

U. S. Commissions First New Battleship In 18 Years

U. S. S. North Carolina

Launched three months ago, and now commissioned, the new U. S. battleship, North Carolina, is pictured in Brooklyn navy yard, after elaborate, but not public ceremonies. The battleship is the first to join the U. S. fleet in 18 years. The new ship is of 35,000 tons displacement, and carries a crew of 1,500 officers and men. Protected by four, and possibly five, armored decks with at least nine inches of armor steel, it is considered impossible for the North Carolina to be sunk.

GRAND JURY PROBE IN GAMBLING SEEN

Sheriff's Raiding Party Finds Equipment At Two Places

LISBON, April 10. — Following warnings issued some time ago against the exhibiting of gambling devices such as slot machines and gambling boards, Sheriff George Hayes and a raiding party consisting of Deputy Charles Patterson, Prosecutor Frank W. Springer and Assistant Prosecutor James Elliott, seized equipment at two places in the northwestern part of the county Wednesday afternoon. The findings will be investigated by the April grand jury which convenes next Monday.

In the first of several raids planned in a county-wide clean-up of the gambling devices, the sheriff's party visited 14 gas stations, beer parlors and small stores in the western part of the county yesterday afternoon, but machines were found in only two places.

The officers, using a wreck bar to open a barred steel cabinet in the Ace tavern on Route 62 not far from the Alliance city limits, uncovered three machines, including a 5-cent, a 10-cent and a 25-cent slot machine. The gambling devices were seized by the officers. Lewis Bossert, owner of the tavern, was charged with exhibiting a gambling device.

The second "find" was at the Chicken Dinner tavern, Westville, where a 5-cent marble board was confiscated. The owner of the place, not yet identified by the officers, will be charged with exhibiting a gambling device.

Several weeks ago Sheriff Hayes confiscated two slot machines found in "Kenny's Place" at Cannon's Mills, and the owner of that place will also be charged with exhibiting a gambling device.

Prosecutor Frank Springer predicts a remarkably short session of the investigating body unless new transcripts are filed within the next few days. There are now approximately eight cases awaiting grand jury action, including assault and battery, armed robbery, and reckless driving.

Abe Gold, 35, of Fort Wayne, Ind., suffered a back injury and a severe scalp laceration when his automobile sideswiped a truck on Route 46, near the intersection of the Western Reserve road, at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday and then hurtled into a culvert.

Gold was removed to Youngstown South Side hospital.

PIANO IS NEEDED AT HOME FOR AGED

Somewhere in Salem there's nothing startling about that. But this is a very special piano, in this case.

It has, possibly, been used for some time. Maybe the children have grown up and left it. It isn't necessarily a very fancy piano but is still in good condition and delivers good music. But the folks who have it use it very little now, if any, and there's the matter of dusting it, keeping it clean, and caring for it in general which may become a chore at times.

BUDGET MEASURE PASSED BY HOUSE

Amendments are Defeated: Senate To Push Action

COLUMBUS, April 10.—The Ohio senate today received the $351,867,919 biennial appropriation bill in exactly the same form it was introduced in the house.

The house passed the measure, 73 to 54, yesterday after rejecting every amendment offered. The house Democrats offered an omnibus amendment embracing 11 changes, which would have added $15,000,000 to the bill, but the Republican majority overrode it.

The Democrats sought unsuccessfully to increase the old age pension appropriation $5,000,000 a year and to give the local governments all revenue from the sales tax in excess of $51,000,000 a year. An appropriation already enacted by the legislature gives the cities and counties $12,000,000 a year.

Although the senate intended to adjourn today until Wednesday, the Republican leaders hoped that members of the senate finance committee would go to work immediately on the appropriation bill carrying funds for operation of the state government in 1941-42.

If the measure is hurried through the senate, the legislature may be in a position to end its work by May 2.

WINONA TO HOLD SUNRISE SERVICE

The speaker for the service will be Rev. Dorene Speas of the Winona Friends' church. A ladies' vocal trio from the Salem A. M. E. Zion church will appear on the program.

The public is invited.

Sees Financial Failure

SANDUSKY, April 10.—Complete financial failure if the country continues on its present spending course is foreseen by Rep. A. D. Baumhart, Vermilion Republican. At a Republican meeting here last night, he urged his listeners to write congressmen opposing the use of convoys for Britain as "a sure step to war."

Decisive Battle Of Balkans Not Yet Fought, Says Writer

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

The decisive engagement of the Battle of the Balkans still has to be fought, and as matters now stand it likely will hinge on the Greco-British main line of defense which is being forged across northern Greece, from the Bay of Salonika to the south Albanian port of Chimara on the Adriatic sea.

Even this may demonstrate that the Balkan upheaval is merely a phase of a far greater project which is staggering in scope. Hitler's goal after he has smashed Yugoslavia and Greece is stated by the government-controlled Italian newspaper Popolo di Roma to be the Suez canal.

That is a logical possibility. It would involve the forcing of the Dardanelles by the Germans and a drive through Turkey into the Near East.

Another possibility to which British Premier Churchill called attention yesterday when he warned Russia "there are many signs that point to a Nazi attempt to secure

HITLER OPERA RAZED AS RAF RAIDS BERLIN

Magnificent State Opera Destroyed; 3 Palaces Are Damaged

ATTACK HEAVIEST SINCE WAR BEGAN

Bombs Also Fall On Other Vital Centers In North Germany

(By Associated Press) BERLIN, April 10.—The magnificent German state opera house, one of Adolf Hitler's favorite theaters, was destroyed and three palaces were damaged last night by British airmen in what the high command acknowledged to be the heaviest raid on Berlin since the war began.

DNE, official German news agency, said, however, there were only six deaths in Berlin.

Emden, Bremen and several other vital war centers in northern Germany also were attacked, as well as Bellevue castle in Berlin, guest house for foreign statesmen, the most recent of whom was Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka.

Nazi Raid England

Heavy blows against Birmingham and the port of Newcastle as well as Ipswich and Southampton were claimed by the high command.

In the Nazi attack on British shipping the destruction of nine ships, totalling 49,000 tons, was claimed, while five other large ships and a destroyer were said to have been damaged.

The state opera house was burned out after a shower of incendiaries struck it. This morning a dense cloud of smoke hung over the center of the city, attracting hundreds of the curious. Fire hose crisscrossed Unter den Linden and the area was roped off.

(The opera house is not to be confused with the Kroll opera house where the reichstag now meets.)

The former crown prince palace, now a state gallery of modern art, also was hit.

The incendiaries, apparently coming down in bundles, fell on numerous other buildings along the avenue, including the historic Prussian State library, where the attic was burned out.

Similarly burned out was the top floor of the Emperor William I palace opposite the state opera, and the right wing of the university across the street.

A number of office buildings toward the Brandenburg gate suffered minor damage from incendiaries.

Volumes Undamaged, Claim

Informed sources said that the fire in the state library, which was reported brought under control quickly, had not damaged the collection of approximately 3,000,000 volumes housed there.

The state opera building offered a sad sight, however.

The fire there apparently started at the rear end of the stage house, whence the flames, finding rich food, blew through the roof and ate their way into the proscenium through the front.

Spectators could see through the building from Unter den Linden to unscarred St. Hedwig's cathedral immediately back of the opera.

While this part of the city apparently suffered from incendiaries only, official announcements said explosives struck two hospitals and apartment houses in other districts.

Turkey Orders Evacuation Of Istanbul, With German Soldiers 100 Miles Away

(By The Associated Press) ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 10.—The Turkish government announced today that it "found it advisable" to withdraw a considerable portion of Istanbul's population.

The government offered to transport the people free into the interior.

The action was regarded as an indication of how seriously Turkey considers the threat of war to Istanbul, on the European side of the Bosphorus, less than 100 miles from the frontier of Bulgaria, about 150 miles from the eastern section of Greece, both occupied by Germany.

The city is feared particularly vulnerable to air attack. Its normal population is about 750,000.

The government's announcement said: "It is found advisable that persons of the following categories living in Istanbul should be evacuated: orphans, aged persons receiving civil or military pensions and who are not engaged in defense industry, persons without occupation."

"These persons, with their families, will be sent by government trains and boats to any part of the nation with the following exceptions: Thrace, Izmir, Ankara, Erzeroum."

Von Papan's activities apparently a follow-up to the note from Adolf Hitler, delivered to President Ismet Inonu by a special air-borne mission after the occupation of Bulgaria, in which it was reported Hitler offered to look out for Turkey's "interests." The Turkish reply never was made public, either in Berlin or Turkey.

One hundred pounds of baggage per person may be carried.

"Those people living in Istanbul who wish to join relatives in Anatolia, with the exceptions of Izmir, Ankara and Erzeroum, will be allowed to do so on government trains and boats by application up to April 15."

The Rome radio in a broadcast today quoted "well-informed sources" as saying that Germany's ambassador, Franz von Papen, had received assurances to Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu that "Germany has no intention of attacking Turkey."

Reports from the front indicated that Yugoslavia would be compelled to fight a separate battle.

Italian dispatches said the German and Italian armies, driving into southern Yugoslavia from opposite directions, were "on the point" of joining hands.

The meeting was expected to take place not far from the Albanian-Yugoslav border west of Skopje, strategic city at the head of the Vardar river valley leading to Salonika.

German mechanized troops were reported last night to have reached Tetovo, about 23 miles west of Skopje and only 15 miles from Italian advance elements at Brad.

The Yugoslavs, meanwhile, were making a desperate effort to cut through the Italian lines in Albania and join hands with the Greeks near Lake Ochrida, but they were said to be still some 50 miles from their objective.

Navy Faces Problem

Military observers expressed belief the British navy must act quickly to force a passage of the Straits of Oranto between Italy and Albania and open a sea lane to Yugoslavia if military aid and American war material is to reach her before she may be overwhelmed.

An Athens radio broadcast last night declared "the possibility of a Yugoslav retreat (exposing the Greek left flank) as well as the cutting off of Greek forces in Thrace had been foreseen by the Greek high command."

The decisive battle will be given where strategic conditions demand it. The war goes on and will go on. We know how to fight and will not be influenced by unfavorable turns."

The Nazi thrust into Thrace and Macedonia effectively severed overland communications between Greece and Turkey, Britain's thus far passive ally.

Some dispatches from Turkey raised the possibility that the British air force and fleet might seek the use of bases in Turkey for operations against Thrace.

Arrest Motorist After Auto Hits Milk Wagon

LeRoy George of Lainsburg, Mich., was arrested by Patrolman Clifford Todd at 4:30 a. m. today after George's automobile, pulling a trailer, struck an Andalusia Dairy Co. milk wagon on N. Ellsworth ave., near Tenth st.

Ernest Brudery of 647 W. Wilson st. the milk man, was not on the wagon at the time. Bottles were spilled on the street. The horse, although struck by the car, escaped serious injury.

Army Is Intact, Says Athens, Will "Strike At Right Time"

(By Associated Press) ATHENS, Greece, April 10.—The Greek army remains intact "to deal a decisive blow at the German invader with allied support," Greek military sources declared today, despite the entrapment of some forces in eastern Greece.

The fate of the forces cut off by the swift Nazi drive to Salonika still was obscure, but they were reported holding out late last night.

The main Greek army will strike at the right time and the right place," the military informants reiterated confidently.

The battle for Greek independence, first won on Mount Pinus, where the Italian attack from Albania was thrown back last October—will be repeated again on Greek mountains where in past centuries invaders have been stopped.

German troop-carrying motor vehicles were "systematically machine-gunned" by British bombers and fighters in the Kilikis and Polycastion areas, north of Salonika, an RAF command said, although bad weather conditions interfered with air operations.

German casualties were described as heavy.

Bridges in the Axioupolis zone came in for particular attention, it was said.

ETHICS CAN'T BE HATCHED

Sen. Hatch is lending his name and influence to more proposals for legislation to clean up politics. This is the dormant season for big-time politics, which possibly accounts for the temptation to sniff. "Oh yeah?"

The Hatch theory is that politics can be cleaned up by law. It is not in all ways a sound theory, but the worst thing about it is the way it happened to get its start. New Dealers, having tapped the federal treasury, were using some of the money to influence votes. Old-line Democrats and Republicans had to stop that. The result was the first Hatch act. Then the New Dealers and the Democrats decided to cramp the style long favored by the Republican party of tapping fat cats for cost's campaigns. The result was the second Hatch act.

In other words, the Hatch theory of cleaning up politics by passing laws has become a kind of implement for getting even with the other side, with neither side believing in what it pretends to be doing when it supports the latest proposal.

It might not be a bad idea if the existing laws passed under the Hatch theory of redemption by legislation were allowed to age awhile before anything else was added to them.

PINNING DOWN SELF-PITY

Self-pity for the state of America's young manhood, egged on by medical statistics from examinations of selectees, is threatening to run away with itself. When the war department announced a few days ago that perhaps as many as 40 percent of all men called up for the draft might be turned down because of physical defects, there was a groan that filled half the hemisphere.

What needs to be known is how this stacks up with the experience of other countries using the same examining standards. Perhaps Americans have been reading too many funny papers and imagine that anything short of Flash Gordon is a misfit. The plain truth of the matter is, though, that their pride has been hurt.

For years they have believed this country's young men were all right and getting better from year to year. They have seen with their own eyes; it wasn't something they were told. But now they're being told that something is wrong because, as many as 40 percent of the young men can't make the grade for the army and they don't know what to think. What they'd like to know is what percentage of the young men of other nations would be rejected under the same tests. Until they find out, the more skeptical among them will quit complaining about the way the rising generation's health is going to pot. Sure it could be better. But what's being used for a standard?

REAR-GUARD ACTION

Defense of Yugoslavia calls for orderly retreat from all territory adapted to mechanized warfare, abandoning it to the invading Germans with only a nominal struggle. The Yugoslav army will take its stand in the mountainous area bordering the Adriatic sea.

Defense of Greece also calls for only nominal resistance to the invaders in the narrow eastern area adjacent to Turkey. If Greece can be defended against Germany, it will be a matter of taking a stand in the west, with the help of Great Britain's Mediterranean army.

Defense of Great Britain, aside from occasional threats and one authenticated counter-attack in Norway, is a problem of developing an island fortress so impregnable it cannot be taken and at the same time of keeping open the naval lines of supply and communication to the fortress.

Even in Libya, scene of the only successful counter-attack on a large scale other than that of the Greeks in Albania, the British recently have withdrawn in the face of new mechanized divisions furnished and directed by the German army.

A year ago, in Norway, what started out as a counter-attack by the British ended up as a rear-guard action, setting the stage for the subsequent rout of the formidable French army in France and the disastrous retreat of the British expeditionary force from Dunkirk.

This has been a war of rear-guard action on the part of Germany's opponents—a fact pointed out sharply by the strategy in the Balkans where Great Britain, for the first time, has chosen its battlefield with deliberation. In its larger aspects, perhaps it may be called a war of attrition, like World War I, in which Germany successfully occupied and held enemy territory, yet lost the decision. The immediate problem, however, still seems to be how to turn the tide by seizing the offensive and forcing Germany, instead of its opponents, to fall back on rear-guard strategy.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, April 11

A RATHER happy and progressive day may be presaged although it may be that the mind and energies are predisposed to the higher, finer and less sordid and gainful things of life rather than the purely material and commonplace. The cultural, artistic, and ultra intellectual expressions may predominate, although social, pleasure-seeking and humane urges may be a factor for much success and happiness. Superiors may not be cooperative and there may be some private annoyances of trivial import.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which the finer, more advanced, intellectual and cultural vocations and avocations may be to the fore, with the commonplace and utilitarian relegated to the background. The humane, social, and romantic urges may bring pleasure and profit, although there may be lack of support from high personages and also there may be minor duplicities and annoyances. A child born on this day may be endowed with many cultural and social graces fitting it for a recognized place in advancing human welfare and lofty ideals and objectives.

CALLS RHEUMATIC FEVER INSIDIOUS

Affects the Heart, Clendening Points Out

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In discussing yesterday the changing conditions which changes in the general incidence of disease have imposed on medical practice, I mentioned some of the conditions which we find can be taken care of better by general public health measures than by the individual physician.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

physician. One of these, as I said, about which there can be no argument, is tuberculosis.

Another may be acute rheumatic fever, sometimes called "inflammatory rheumatism." This disease does far more damage than infantile paralysis and ten other diseases that such a fuss is made over. Its danger lies in the fact not that it affects the joints, but that it affects the heart. Probably three-quarters of the heart cripples under 40 years are that way because they are victims of acute rheumatism.

Crippled Hearts

The disease is insidious in its progress. A child may be stricken with fever and pain in the joints. Treatment of the immediate symptoms is simple and satisfactory. The use of some form of the salicylates usually relieves the acute condition within a week. To all apparent purposes and even on careful examination, the child seems to be perfectly well; pain, swelling and redness are gone from the joints, and no signs are in the heart, but in the majority of cases, the damage has been done and as the years go by, it becomes evident that there was some residual trouble left in the heart, which finally causes crippling disability.

If all patients with acute rheumatic fever were made to rest for a long period, much of this heart trouble could be prevented. Such a period of rest is easy to arrange for in a household where there is somebody who can take care of the child, keep it in bed and amuse it, and where nourishing food is plentiful. Ideally, a child with one attack of acute rheumatic fever should be removed to a warm climate for an indefinite period in order to prevent recurrent attacks.

All this means that the underprivileged child has to take his chances and that is why rheumatic fever is a community health problem.

It now is increasingly apparent that rheumatic fever is widespread among undernourished children, crowded together in unhealthful environment, and that provision for their care under these circumstances is altogether inadequate.

I have before me the report of a sanitarium near Boston, which has been made available for the care of children with rheumatic fever. The sanitarium has had several years' experience and its conclusions are worth noting. The children are kept outdoors, exposed to plenty of air and sunshine and even in the unfavorable environment of Boston they respond well. Most of them have had one attack of rheumatic fever and the idea is to give them continuous rest so as to cut down the chances of heart damage and to harden them by open air and sunshine so as to prevent a recurrence of infections, especially the recurrence of an attack of rheumatism.

England, before the war, took the lead in accepting community responsibility for the care of rheumatic fever. In London, it was recognized some years ago that the problem was too urgent and too extensive to be dealt with entirely by private or charitable organizations. The Ministry of Health, therefore, took active steps in the matter, the result being the provision of over 1,000 beds for children in the London area.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
E. R. M.: "What causes the network of small red veins to appear on the sides of the nose? Is there any remedy for them?"

Answer: Dr. Wm. Osler wrote extensively on this subject. It was a mystery to him why the veins appear and it still remains a mystery. They apparently do not indicate any organic disease. Their removal is merely a matter of relief to the aesthetic sense. The X-ray man and plastic surgeon can relieve them quite easily.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp.

ASKS OHIOANS TO OBSERVE FRIDAY

Gov. Bricker Proclamation Calls Attention To Significance

Churches throughout Ohio will hold services from 12 noon, to 3 p. m. tomorrow for the observance of Good Friday.

Governor George Bricker is especially directing attention to this day of great religious significance. The state's chief executive has ordered that state offices suspend activity from 12 to 3 p. m. and urges that business houses do likewise, so that employees in each instance may join in observance of the day.

In accordance with the emphasis placed on the day's observance this year, Gov. Bricker has issued an official proclamation, as follows:

"WHEREAS, all people of the Christian world will observe April 10th, 1941, as Good Friday, the anniversary of the day Jesus Christ, the Savior, was crucified upon the cross; and

"WHEREAS, in these trying times when the entire world is threatened with war and agents of evil are at work in many countries to drive God from the lives of men, and

"WHEREAS, the life of Jesus Christ and His great sacrifice to redeem the souls of men is a constant example to us that spiritual power and consecrated lives are the first line of our individual and national defense; and

"WHEREAS, we know that if the rulers who are endeavoring to rule the world into war were faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ we would not be confronted today with a world catastrophe.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, John W. Bricker, Governor of the State of Ohio, do hereby appeal to all citizens to observe Good Friday, April 10th, 1941, with prayers and meditation recalling the supreme sacrifice made by the Saviour that men might be saved and peace reign among men and nations. To this end I direct that all state departments cease activities insofar as possible on Good Friday from 12 to 3 p. m. to permit employees to attend religious services. I also urge all business concerns to cease activities during this period to permit their employees to join in the observance of Good Friday and call upon everyone to join in special prayers on that day that the teachings of Jesus Christ, who came upon this earth as the Prince of Peace, shall ultimately prevail throughout the world.

"IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State of Ohio to be affixed at Columbus this 25th day of March, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-one."

JOHN W. BRICKER, Governor.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTERE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTERE at any drug store.

Informality To Be Theme at "Roundup"

A variety of entertainment, all in the best approved "western" style, is planned for guests at the Salem Polo club's "roundup" dance at the Elks home Saturday evening, April 19. The affair, a benefit, is open to the public.

A dude ranch setting is being provided and guests are invited to wear appropriate costumes, cowboy and cowgirl style, farmer, or any other informal costume. Prizes will be awarded for the cleverest "rig."

Contests, a "Pennies from Heaven" feature, a greased pig chase and a bullfight are expected to augment the program of events. A "Lover's Lane" will be one of the features with music on the electric organ by Kenny Beck to add to the effectiveness of the "lane."

Johnny Harris' band will play for dancing. Guests from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Alliance, Canton, Lisbon and other neighboring cities are expected.

Interior Decorator Sorority Guest

Interesting new treatments for windows, the related color and design of new fabrics for upholstery, drapes and coverings were discussed by L. E. Psaltzgraf, interior decorator for the G. M. McKelvey Co. in Youngstown, before the Leontine club at the library Wednesday night.

The speaker showed slides illustrating treatments for ordinary and "problem" windows and showed samples of new fabrics, colors and designs.

The program also included two vocal numbers, "The Jewel Song" from "Faust" and "Daddy's Sweetheart," Miss Rosa Dilworth, accompanied by her sister, Lois.

During the business meeting Mrs. Raymond Walton and Mrs. Ethel Bricker Scope of Winona were welcomed as new members.

Plans were announced for the annual joint guest night observance of the Leontine and Book clubs on May 19. The place will be announced.

Mrs. Howard Morgan, retired president, proposed that the club hold only one benefit party during the year to obtain funds for welfare work and that it be held during the week before Lent. Members voted to accept the suggestion to avoid duplication of welfare activities.

Arrangements were made to hold a picnic this summer, after the close of the regular season of meetings. With Mrs. John Holzwarth, president, and Mrs. Morgan, past president, as hostesses. The date and place will be set later.

Last night's program closed the regular meetings for this season.

Discusses Problems of Missions

Rev. R. D. Walter discussed the problems facing missions and their work in the world today at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon.

A paper on "Chosen-Korea," was presented by Miss Emma Hoopes. Special musical entertainment included a piano duet, "Nutcracker Suite" (Tchaikovsky), Mrs. E. E. Dyal and Mrs. Lewis Smith.

The yearbook of prayer was in charge of Mrs. A. H. Kennedy and devotionals were led by Mrs. James Campbell. Mrs. W. E. Bunn had the spiritual life message.

Plans were made for members to attend a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Synod of Ohio in Warren Thursday and Friday. Mrs. J. C. Pottorf will appear on the program Friday morning. Several Salem women plan to attend.

A covered dinner followed the meeting in charge of Mrs. Frank Wilson and her April committee.

The next meeting will be held May 14.

Miss Margaret Simon Is Hostess

Miss Margaret Simon entertained the Maids of Salem 38 at her home on E. State st. Tuesday evening. Guests played bingo during the social hour, prizes going to Mrs. Robert S. Schaeffer and Miss Mary Helen Brudery.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The table was beautifully decorated in green, yellow and white, featuring the Easter theme. A nest of miniature chicks and rabbits formed the centerpiece. Places were marked by little chocolate hens bearing the name of the guests.

The next meeting will be held at the Warner hotel in Lisbon in two weeks, with Miss Brudery as hostess.

Pythian Sisters Will Hold Inspection

District Deputy Thelma Walker of Girard will conduct the annual inspection of Friendship temple No. 100, Pythian Sisters, at 7:30 tonight in the lodge hall.

Initiation will be followed by lunch. Visitors are expected from a number of neighboring temples. All members are asked to be present.

Marriage licenses have been issued at Lisbon to the following couples: Cecil Greenaway, steel worker, Cleveland, and Florence Blue of Salem.

Women of the Moose

Roster Grows

Women of the Moose accepted one candidate for membership during a business meeting in the hall last night.

A posture contest was planned to continue through the next four weeks. In charge of Mrs. Gus Bonfert, ritualistic chairman.

Members arranged to give five dozen eggs for the annual Easter egg hunt for Salem youngsters.

Plans were completed for the anniversary dinner to be held with the men's lodge April 19.

Bingo games for Friday night will be postponed because of Holy week.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Bonfert and Mrs. Grover Scullion. The next meeting will be held April 23.

James Roosevelt To Wed His Nurse

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—The Examiner says James Roosevelt and Romelia Schneider will be married here Tuesday.

The paper quoted the President's eldest son: "We plan to have a quiet home wedding with mother present. Nothing will change that date unless something delays mother's arrival."

"I have learned I am to remain at San Diego, so we decided to marry as soon as possible."

Roosevelt is a captain at the U. S. marine base at San Diego and there recently had been speculation that he might be transferred.

The Examiner reported that: Roosevelt will apply today for a marriage license, fly to Mexico City tomorrow with a film party and return Monday.

Asked if Miss Schneider, who nursed him after an emergency stomach operation in 1938, would make the Mexican flight, he replied: "Oh, she's much too busy and excited for that."

Roosevelt's recent trip to Washington was to get the President's approval of the marriage.

The couple plans to spend their honeymoon at San Diego and probably will make their home in that city, at least until the President's son is discharged from the marines.

Roosevelt, 33, was divorced March 7, 1940, by Betsey Cushing Roosevelt, daughter of E. Harvey Cushing of Boston. She received custody of their children, Sara Delano, now 9, and Kate, 5. They were married in 1930. Betsey Roosevelt and the children will receive nearly $200,000 in settlements and payments spaced through several years.

Miss Schneider was assigned to nurse Roosevelt when he went to Rochester, Minn., in September, 1938, for his stomach operation. She accompanied him to Hollister, Calif., where he went to recuperate and has remained near him since. She is 25.

NO COAL SHORTAGE EXPECTED BY U. S.

Progress Is Made In Negotiations; Ford Dispute Drags On

(BULLETIN)
DETROIT, April 10.—Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner called on the Ford Motor company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) today to accept "without any further delay" a three-point proposal for settling the eight-day old strike at the company's River Rouge plant.

(By Associated Press)
The soft coal tie-up and the Ford Motor company strike dragged on unsettled today, but not without some prospect of early solution.

Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner of Michigan expressed renewed hope for a quick end to the strike at the Ford River Rouge plant near Detroit. He said he had "a fine talk" with Henry Ford, and had telephoned President Roosevelt yesterday to outline developments.

"All parties are aiming for a quick settlement of the strike with a singleness of purpose," the governor declared.

Federal Mediator James F. Dewey announced, meanwhile, the direct conferences between company and union representatives have been discontinued for the present. The CIO United Automobile Workers union demands a contract, wage increases for hourly workers, and substitution of uniformed protection employees for the Ford service department which union leaders have termed a "company spy system."

No Coal Shortage
Although details of a proposed new contract between soft coal operators and CIO United Mine Workers were reported unacceptable to some mine owners, Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the United States conciliation service, declared:

"Sufficient agreement has been reached to assure the country that there will be no danger of a coal shortage."

Steelman asserted that operators whose mines produce 55 per cent of the tonnage in the Appalachian area, or 38 1/2 per cent of the nation's output, were willing to meet the union's demands for higher wages. The CIO-UMW seeks elimination of a 40-cent differential between northern and southern fields, for a straight $7 a day wage. This would mean a boost of $1 a day in the north and $1.40 in the south. The southern operators objected to this arrangement.

ALL THE HOT WATER YOUR FAMILY NEEDS!

A GENERAL ELECTRIC WATER HEATER Gives You Abundant Hot Water—Instantly!

DISHES—To get dishes clean and sterile, you need 140° to 160° F. hot water. A G-E meets this need with "a turn of a faucet."

SHOWER—There's nothing quite so healthful and refreshing as a "hot shower." Have plenty of hot water on hand at all times—with a G-E.

BATHS—With an automatic G-E water heater you don't have to "wait" for water to heat for baths. It's ready and waiting at the turn of a faucet.

LAUNDRY—Hot water is a necessity on wash days to get the clothes white and clean. A G-E gives a plentiful supply of clean hot water when you want it.

HERE'S WHY
A G-E Costs So Little to Use.

1. NEW Cost Cutter Calrod Unit.
2. Genuine Rockwool Insulation.
3. Heat-saving Heat Trap.
4. Cold Water Deflector.
5. Adjustable Automatic Thermostat.

The federal conciliator also said he expected that operators in outlying areas would join in the agreement, thus accounting for 68 1/2 per cent of the United States soft coal tonnage.

Sees Fewer Stoppages

Testifying before the house military committee in Washington yesterday, Production Chief William S. Knudsen expressed belief that "work stoppages will be fewer from now on" and recommended that the nation depend on mediation and employer-employee cooperation to prevent defense strikes.

The committee is conducting an investigation of the national defense program.

Knudsen said legislative action to prevent strikes should be considered "only as a last resort."

After hearing the OPM officials and secretary of Labor Perkins, who also said she felt legislation was not necessary to end strikes in defense industries, the committee recessed until Tuesday.

HITS CONDITIONS AT RAVENNA CAMP

Ohio Industrial Chief To Close Bunkhouses, Called "Filthy"

RAVENNA, April 10.—Describing conditions in the shantytown adjacent to the army ordnance plant 12 miles east of here as "the most unsanitary I have ever encountered," George A. Strain, state director of industrial relations, said today he would ascertain whether he had legal authority to close the bunkhouses and eating place accommodating more than 600 workers.

After inspecting the bunkhouses a ramshackle "social center" and restaurant in company with a group of his principal assistants, the director said:

"It would be impossible to remodel these structures to meet the state building code. I have raised logs under better conditions than I have just seen. The people living here deserve better house and health conditions."

"Unbelievably Filthy"
Strain asserted that he found no evidence whatever that state laws governing the safety and sanitation of structures open to the public had been obeyed and he flatly described conditions in the shantytown as "filthy and unbelievably unsanitary."

Upon his return to his office in Columbus, Strain is expected to issue a decree declaring the structures adjacent to the government property to be under state jurisdiction.

Accompanying Strain on his inspection tour were John Gerber, of Canton and Robert Hough of Cuyahoga Falls, district inspectors for the director who called his attention to the shantytown conditions; Nelson C. Hovey, assistant director; R. C. Spencer, acting chief of building and factory inspection, and Frank Avren, the department's safety engineer.

Strain's associates reported that they had found only one enclosed toilet in the collection of jerry-built structures which they said were built principally by operators from West Virginia and Pennsylvania, who are advertising cheap food and lodging for unskilled laborers who came to the project seeking work.

Men employed in the construction on government land, under army of the plant buildings are housed regulations.

Files Wage Suit

TIFFIN, April 10.—The North Central Rural Electric Co. of Attica is charged with failure to allow time and one-half for overtime in a suit filed by Clifford Doran, a former employee. The suit, besides asking back pay, damages and attorney fees for himself, demanded an accounting to determine the same for "all other persons similarly situated."

erately, with full knowledge that the Axis might take advantage of the position to try for a come-back. Actually, as Premier Churchill explained yesterday, the Nazis managed to smuggle a large force of armored troops and planes through the British blockade to Tripoli. Now they have struck and we see an Axis force of some 20,000 back-tracking and reoccupying cities with little or no opposition.

The only British reply has been that they are concentrating troops and will deal with the enemy when the time and place looks good.

The idea of this was to let the Italians over-extend their lines of communication so that the inhospitable desert would fight for the defenders. Precisely the same scheme was worked in the World War when the Turks and Germans attacked Egypt from the west. In both instances the British struck from Matruh and smashed the enemy.

WOTAN'S WEDGE

by FRANCIS GERARD
A PRELUDE TO BLITZKRIEG

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE
"So?" said the chief of German Military Intelligence. "Sir John Meredith. This is a pleasure!"

The General was seated at the table upon which maps and papers were strewn. Lieutenant Rotz stood at his elbow, his revolver in a holster strapped to his side ready to hand. Meredith and Beef were seated on kitchen chairs facing von Wallenfels while behind them loomed two stolid figures who were probably from the Nazi Navy. The latter had revolvers in their hands. Sitting tilted on a chair with his feet upon a window sill near one corner of the room lounged a fair-haired individual whose slouchy attitude was a shrieking offense to the correct young Lieutenant Rotz.

"An unexpected pleasure, Sir John!" repeated von Wallenfels. "However," he went on, "I am somewhat disappointed in you." Meredith smiled. "We cannot always be successful, Your Excellency."

"That is true," nodded the General. "And you have had your fair share of success." "You are too kind," bowed Sir John.

"Yes, indeed," went on the other. "I know all about your exploits in the Near East." Meredith looked interested. "Oh, yes, Sir John. I had seriously contemplated financing Hassan Shak al Jabal but," he shrugged, "you put him out of business before my agents got into contact with him."

"And that," murmured Meredith, "was very unfortunate." The Nazi general permitted himself a grin as he nodded in agreement. "Very," he said. He rested his forearms on the map spread before him, and regarded Meredith directly. "Tell me, Sir John, what do you know?"

Meredith looked innocent. "What do I know?" he queried.

Von Wallenfels nodded. "Of this affair?"

"It is difficult to know where to begin."

At that moment the door opened and a new-comer appeared. At first Meredith failed to recognize him. He was a stockily built fellow with practically no hair on his head, and a clean-shaven, square-jawed face. But soon the duelling scar betrayed his identity to Meredith: Igor Levinsky, supposed Communist!

The man drew himself smartly to attention just inside the door and announced: "Eitel Weimer, Colonel Commandant of the Third Regiment of Light Cavalry, reporting, Herr General, Heil Hitler!"

Beef's round, battered face looked childishly surprised. "That's the first serious 'eil' I've ever heard!" he exclaimed.

"You may wait outside, Colonel!" Von Wallenfels nodded his dismissal but Weimer never moved. "You have something you wish to say?"

"Something of great importance, Excellency."

They were speaking in German which might just as well have been Gaelic to Beef. Even Meredith could only understand a few words.

Von Wallenfels glanced at the two prisoners and then... looking away from them but in reality keeping a watchful eye on Meredith's face... he said quietly in German, "You will take these English swine into the cellar and shoot them at once."

Rotz started forward to do what his superior had ordered but von Wallenfels waved him back, saying, "No, no. It was but a test." Meredith's face had not registered one atom of understanding, betraying not the slightest interest in that order commanding his execution.

"New," resumed von Wallenfels. "We may speak before them in safety. They don't understand German."

Nor could Meredith nor Beef understand what followed, though they watched proceedings with keen interest.

Colonel Weimer went out of the room and returned soon with a man who was so grossly repulsive in looks that he seemed hardly human.

"Good lor," murmured Beef to Meredith. "I seen humaner apes than that!"

The new-comer stood stiffly to attention as von Wallenfels barked a few words. Then a lengthy conversation took place during which Beef was able to tell Meredith something which made his superior glance anxiously at the clock on the mantelpiece.

"You remember, Sir John," Beef whispered, "I done time in Explosives at the Yard? Well, I've set a time fuse to a collection of little figgers, set it for two o'clock. Unless we get out before then, we're for the high jump, sir, and when I says high it will be high all right. Once my little bundle starts poppin' the whole works'll go us. There's enough puff-stuff in there to blow us all into the middle of France."

Meredith said nothing. He looked at the clock on the mantelpiece. The hands stood at five to twelve. Well, they had two hours.

The awful looking brute who had been replying to von Wallenfels, became suddenly silent. Meredith saw that the General's brow was like a thunder cloud. He barked an order, the haval man who had been standing behind Meredith's chair marched from the room. Well, two less in the room shortened the odds, but Meredith was no shilling-shocked hero. Bullets did not bounce off him like they do off so many pulp prodigies. He knew perfectly well that his reactions after stopping a .45 bullet would be precisely the same as the next man's.

There was an automatic lying on the map just by von Wallenfels' hand. Rotz had a revolver he could draw in a moment. He had seen Weimar, alias Levinson, pat his hip pocket as if to assure himself he was armed. And there was that other fellow lounging in the corner who did not look like a German but who was probably as well.

At that moment the door opened and a new-comer appeared. At first Meredith failed to recognize him. He was a stockily built fellow with practically no hair on his head, and a clean-shaven, square-jawed face. But soon the duelling scar betrayed his identity to Meredith: Igor Levinsky, supposed Communist!

The man drew himself smartly to attention just inside the door and announced: "Eitel Weimer, Colonel Commandant of the Third Regiment of Light Cavalry, reporting, Herr General, Heil Hitler!"

Beef's round, battered face looked childishly surprised. "That's the first serious 'eil' I've ever heard!" he exclaimed.

"You may wait outside, Colonel!" Von Wallenfels nodded his dismissal but Weimer never moved. "You have something you wish to say?"

"Something of great importance, Excellency."

Max. "There is your explanation, you traitorous swine!"

Kloffer's gaze followed to where the other was pointing. His eyes fell upon that utterly dreadful face of the man standing behind the door.

"Erich Stutz," he breathed. "Jawohl, Stutz," snarled the General. "A rogue but less so than you... a Jew!"

Meredith watched this scene in amazement. He had no means of gauging its true import, but he made a guess at it when he caught that word Jew.

Kloffer, though obviously shaken, stood his ground. "Are you going to take the word of a snake like this Stutz? Let me tell you what he is."

"We know already," replied Weimar. "Save your breath." "But he is a renegade... a political exile from Germany," insisted Kloffer. "A traitor who escaped from the Fatherland before the long arm of the Party could reach him. He lined his pockets at the expense of the new currency laws..."

"We know it already," interrupted von Wallenfels. "The accused spy stood silent while the General went through the papers that had been taken from Kloffer. There was nothing there (of that Kloffer was convinced) that would support the charge against him, and he might yet bluff his way out of this totally unlooked-for situation. Yet what was the object? He had nothing to live for now, save the glinting of his vengeance and that would be taken care of even were they to shoot him out of hand. He was glad he had taken that last precaution.

Finally Kloffer looked at General von Wallenfels and said slowly, "Very well, I acknowledge it. I am a Jew."

Weimar drew in his breath with a sharp hiss at this awful admission. Rotz muttered oaths under his breath.

"So!" said the General. "How you attained the position in the Nazi Party which brought you to the command of the Wotan Brigade I do not know. But I can guess. International bank money! Swine! And I can guess, too, what you proposed to do. Well, we have caught you in time.... you Jew Judas!"

To his surprise the man who called himself Siegfried Kloffer smiled. "No, Herr General," he said quietly, "you have not caught me.... in time. Let me tell you something. You will not shoot me because you dare not."

"Dare not?" choked the other in a towering rage. "You will not live to see the dawn, Jew!"

"I shall live to see the dawn," corrected Kloffer. "And you will do all you can to keep life in me. Do you think, Herr General, that I would undertake an enterprise so perilous without taking precautions?"

"I can believe that," sneered von Wallenfels. "I know your kind!" A big vein stood out on Siegfried's forehead, throbbing with the intensity of his feelings, and Meredith noticed that on von Wallenfels' forehead, too a vein throbbled almost as though in sympathy.

"Fig of a Jew!" shrieked Rotz, slapping Kloffer across the mouth.

"Listen!" cried Siegfried, ignoring Rotz and addressing von Wallenfels. "Listen to this: The moment I die, the Wotan Brigade and all of you die with me!"

Theatre Attractions

The latest in the series of films based on the popular comic strip characters, the "Bunsteads," is "Blondie Goes Latin," showing at the State theater tonight and Friday.

The "family," including Daisy, the dog, is invited on a South American cruise by Dagwood's boss. Just before they sail the boss sends Dagwood back to conclude an important piece of business. Dagwood encounters difficulties and fails to get off the boat before sailing time. Fearful that he will be left behind, he tries to keep out of sight by taking a job as the drummer in the ship's orchestra.

"Blondie" notices him, becomes suspicious and finds him hiding in the cabin of the band's vocalist. Baby Dumpling acquires a dancing and singing girl friend. Blondie avenges himself by flirting with a dashing South American, and Dagwood practically tries to fight things.

Events become more complicated when the dashing South American announces to Dagwood's boss that he wishes to buy the factory. Dagwood was "sent ashore" to sell. When the boss begins to tear his hair because he can't locate Dagwood, Baby Dumpling comes to the rescue.

The addition of musical numbers, change of scene and some special dance numbers by "Blondie" are considerably to the picture, which adds another "Blondie" hit to the series.

At the Grand Friday are Charles Starrett in "Outlaws of the Panhandle" and Ray Corrigan, John Max Terhune as the Range-busters in "West of Pinto Basin."

YUGOSLAVIA GONE, BERLIN DECLARES

Germans Assert Government of King Peter and Premier Doomed

(By Associated Press) BERLIN, April 10.—The Yugoslavia of King Peter II and the government of Premier General Dusan Simovic is doomed, Berlin observers said today as the German army continued its lightning-swift smashes in the Balkans.

The German troops who rushed in from Bulgaria and overran Nis, Skopje, Vele, and Prilep with startling swiftness were knocking at the Albanian frontier.

The Yugoslavs had been separated from their Greek and British allies and with Yugoslav communications in confusion because the Germans controlled rail lines centering in Skopje, their chance of re-establishing contact with their Allies seemed a vain hope.

The German observers added that while Yugoslavia was teetering from the effect of recent heavy blows, the Kingdom also was beyond help from the outside.

Included among the aid which is no longer available to the Yugoslavs was, in the German view, any assistance the United States might be planning to send.

Open Only In Theory With the Greek Aegean port of Salonika in German possession, world shipping could reach Yugoslavia, even theoretically, only through her western Adriatic ports. But it was emphasized that even the Adriatic remains open only in theory because Axis land and air forces guard the narrow entrance to that sea between Italy and Albania.

The situation of Greece, while distinctly precarious after the reported surrender of her eastern army to the German divisions which smashed the Metaxas line, was still regarded as being somewhat better than that of Yugoslavia.

The Greeks still had ports open to the Mediterranean. Their troops had the advantage of terrain favoring the defenders and presumably there were British troops in considerable numbers in the northern hills. Some German press dispatches indicated the British might be in the vicinity of Mount Olympus (60 miles southwest of Salonika, near the coast) and to the westward.

Face Two Fronts On the other hand, a new and serious weakness of the Greek defense was seen in the fact that Greek troops in Albania now faced not only the Italians pressing from the west but also the German steam roller crowding in from the east.

German reports indicated that British troops nowhere were encountered in the swift actions of the last four days.

An increasing disposition was apparent in official semi-official quarters to hold the United States responsible in large measure for encouraging Yugoslavia to "take the futile, suicidal course of opposing the Axis with military means."

The Diplomatic-Political-Korrespondenz, semi-official service which usually expresses foreign office viewpoint, said the Anglo-Saxon countries misled Yugoslavia. It said "the agents of Churchill and Roosevelt exploited every conceivable means to bring Serbian politics away from the path of common sense."

Further, it asserted that United States lease-lend aid was not feasible for Yugoslavia and that "material assistance will never reach Yugoslavia from America."

killing and wounding a number of persons. The raid, the third on the capital since December, was said to have resulted in "heavy losses" for the invaders.

Thirteen British bombers were reported to have been shot down by night fighters and anti-aircraft guns on their approach and the Germans said they believed more were caught on their way back.

The radio informed Berlin residents that performances at the State opera would be "temporarily suspended."

The Germans said Nazi warplanes have sunk nine ships totaling 49,000 tons in the last 24 hours and have damaged a destroyer and five merchantmen aggregating 28,000 tons. All the vessels ran aground off the southwest coast of Scotland, they said.

Negley Man Files Claim

LISBON, April 10.—Lynn E. Sloum of Negley filed an action in common pleas court here Wednesday, seeking $10,000 damages from the Salem City Hospital association and J. S. Atchinson.

Sicem states he was injured in a motorcycle accident May 10, 1940, and was removed to the hospital where X-rays revealed a partial fracture of the bone near the elbow. In due time, he says, he was discharged from the hospital, although his shoulder still hurt. Later he went to Youngstown hospital, he claims, where X-rays revealed a fracture also of the left shoulder. As a consequence it is charged he suffers the improper use of the arm, and lost 15½ weeks of work.

THANKS TO TON JON NO. 3, LIFE IS STILL WORTH LIVING

Suffered Untold Agony From Back Pains. Had Not Had Complete Night's Rest for Years. Due to Getting Up to Relieve Kidneys. TON JON No. 3 Relieved Mr. Coleman's Poor Health.

MR. EDWARD COLEMAN

"Life is so much more pleasant when you are free of aches and pains. I know! I have suffered for sometime past from poorly functioning kidneys," declares Mr. Edward Coleman of Salem, R. R. No. 2, employed by the Deming Pump Company for the past 14 years.

"I constantly had a peculiar burning pain in the lower part of my back and my arms and legs and muscles pained me terribly. My work demands me to be in a stooping position the greater part of the time and I have suffered untold agony from those back pains.

"I have not had a complete night's rest for years due to getting up five or six times to relieve my kidneys, always accompanied by a severe burning sensation. I suffered from pains in my back, arms, legs and stiff, sore joints and muscles. Consequently I had an irritable disposition at all times.

"I have spent a considerable amount of money seeking relief, which I never found until I began taking TON JON No. 3 and, to my complete surprise, I have been immensely relieved of those back pains and nightly risings, and my wife says I have a much better disposition. Thanks to TON JON No. 3, life is still worth the living."

The TON JON Health Representative is daily at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, to courteously explain how these medicines will help you, so come to see him tomorrow.

BOWLING RESULTS

Citizens Ice skaters hung up two new records in the Pastime league on the Grate alleys last night.

With a 988 in its third game the team nosed out Wright Southpaws' 986 for high single game, while Forrest Bishop, anchor man for the Ice men, counted 652, well in the lead in individual totals for the league. He has games of 201, 226 and 225. Bill Pauline had 214 in his first and 206 in his last game.

Citizens had a good 2,711 total but annexed only two victories from Hainans, just enough, however, to put them in second place in the league standing.

Eatons slipped into third place by dropping two games to Wrights in a postponed match and then winning only two from Sponsellers in the regular schedule. In the first match Lennig had 610 on games of 212, 195 and 203, while Harding had a 224. For Wrights, Red White came through with a 233 and a 201 for a 610 total and Tubbs had a 208 in his third game.

In taking two from Sponsellers, Eatons had a good chance to hang up the high game in the league, but fell slightly below with a 975 in its second game, Harding, Lennig and Patchen all being over the 200 mark. In this set Harding had 217, 202 and 183 for a 602 total and Lennig contributed a 207 in his first game. For Sponsellers, Jim Armstrong chalked up a 224 in the first game.

In the meantime Firestone Tires, league leaders, managed to win only two from Loudens, while the schlager of Ohio Edisons pulled right with a 206 and 235 for a 593 total. Patterson also passed the 200 mark in one game.

After taking two from Eatons, the Wright Southpaws dropped three to the Salem Label five, enabling the latter to gain on the three top teams in the standings. Jackson of the Labelmen counted 603 with a 218 in his second game and Wink Miller added a 226 in his third game.

Tyson's took two from Albrights, Hull contributing a 203 and Shinn a 203. Lind of Albrights had a 213.

In the other Pastime league game Martin Tires claimed two from the Sohloans. Westfall had 223 and Huffer 203 in the first game.

The first-place Kregeses and the second-place Ohio Edisons pulled farther away from the field in the Masonic Ladies' league last night as the leaders swept three games from the Bankerettes and the Edison's trimmed the Eagles three straight to trail the first-placers by only two games.

The third-running Salem News took two out of three from Works to drop seven games behind Ohio Edisons. Mullins strengthened their hold on fourth place by taking three from the Elks.

FELLER - DIETRICH PITCHING BATTLE LOOMS IN OPENER

Both Have No Hitters To Their Credit; Two Ex-Indians to Play

CLEVELAND, April 10.—A pitching duel between no-hitters Bob Feller and Bill Dietrich looms for the Cleveland-Chicago American league baseball opener here Tuesday.

Feller won 27 and lost 11 for the Indians last season after blanking the White Sox without a hit in the inaugural game at Chicago.

Dietrich registered his no-hitter over the St. Louis Browns in 1937. Last year he won 10 and lost 6, getting one decision in three starts against Cleveland.

Two former Redskins, infielder Bill Knickerbocker and outfielder Moose Solters, will be in Chicago's starting lineup.

Groundkeepers are putting the finishing touches on the field at the 90,000-seat municipal stadium this week and the usual opening day ceremonies are being arranged.

The Indians will close their exhibition schedule in New York Sunday against the Giants, arriving here Monday for a luncheon honoring members of the club.

Akron Yanks Start Grind

AKRON, April 10.—Spring practice for the Akron Yankees of the Mid-Atlantic Baseball league opens today with Manager Ralph (Buz) Boyle at the reins. Assisting him will be Johnny Haddock, scout for the parent New York Yankees, and Warren Dallas, manager of the Eastern club in the Eastern Shore league. At Zanesville approximately 40 rookies report to Manager Jack Warner for initial practice.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(The Special News Service.)—Leo Lindy, famous Broadway restaurateur, says he has been offered one of the Boston ball clubs at a good price.

Jimmy Carroll's latest derby future book odds make Dispose undisputed favorite at 3-1, with Whirlaway next at 4-1 and Curious Count third at 6-1. . . . One of the Texas papers which generally front pages the news when Sammy Baugh breaks his suspenders, ran an obscure eight line item on the market page when Sammy bought a $50,000 ranch the other day. . . . Nat Fleischer, knock down timekeeper in Louis-Musto bout, was paid $200 and expenses for counting "one."

Couple Of Couplets
Pennsylvania solons may enact A state-wide "day" for Connie Mack.
Although you can't class both as phoneys.
It was a black night for the Tonys.

Sports Bulletin Board
Texas U. gave its 71-year-old tennis coach, who has served 34 years pay, a "day" last week. A week would have been more like it. . . . Dick Chapman, a member of Craig Wood's club, Wingers' Pool, bought his pro in the masters' pool for $600. Wood later took one-sixth of the investment which paid off at $7,500. . . . Comedian Fred Allen, who once graced the Boston U. campus for all of five weeks, sent the committee for "friends for Boston U.'s athletes" a check for $25. . . . Baseball men say if Bill Lee signs up those 6-1 odds on the Cubs will be shortened. . . . N. B. C. will televise the Yankee-Dodger collision at Ebbets field tomorrow. . . . That was Tony Galento limping into the boxing boneyard.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Next to the Coule dam, the Athletics are currently the most talked about power source west of Joe Louis."

Heard And Seen
Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey will get sweaters if the City college track team wins the Penn relay. As each athlete does his time-ups these days he hears his favorite record played by means of a special amplifying system. . . . Jack Renault, the old Canadian heavyweight, is a doorman at one of New York's longchamps restaurants. . . . And Charlie Gooch, former big league catcher, is house Dick at Washington's Hamilton hotel. . . . Oklahoma City fans saw something New Yorkers probably never witnessed when Bill Dickey let a pop foul drop to the ground six feet behind the plate. . . . Myrton Vandermeer, third of Charlie Bachman's assistants at Michigan State to get the "call," leaves for camp this week.

Just A Guess
"Snively must rebuild eleven," headlines the N. Y. Sun. . . . From the wavelly to the Snively system, maybe.

Barons Are Choice In Playoff Finals

CLEVELAND, April 10.—The Cleveland Barons, fighting for their third title in 12 years of professional hockey here, are favored over a valiant but crippled band of Hershey Bears tonight in the final playoff game for the American league championship.

Cleveland won the first two games of the series here by scores of 4 to 3 and 3 to 1 and the Bears took the next two on their home ice, 4 to 0 and 4 to 3.

The final victory in Pennsylvania was a costly one for the Bears as they lost the services of defense man Jack Shewchuk and Left Winger Gordon Bruce, two of the team's sparkplugs. Shewchuk suffered a skate cut and Bruce a charley horse, thus reducing the Hershey squad to only 12 players.

Cleveland will win if the game runs true to form. The Barons didn't lose to the Bears here all season. Hershey was just as good on its home ice, repulsing every Cleveland attempt at victory.

Cleveland recorded its first title in 1929-30 and its second in 1938-39. Hershey never has won a professional championship.

BRUINS HOLD EDGE FOR STANLEY CUP
DETROIT, April 10.—The on-rushing Boston Bruins, National Hockey league champions, prepared once again to turn loose their speed against the Detroit Red Wings tonight, seeking an overwhelming lead in the final Stanley cup playoffs.

Already leading by two games to one in a best-of-seven series, the Bruins were aware of the fact they would face a desperate squad of Red Wings on Detroit's home ice.

Prisoners Compete
COLUMBUS, April 10.—Approximately 2,000 prisoners and 100 "guests from outside" watched a softball game and boxing-wrestling show yesterday at the Ohio penitentiary as inmates launched their spring sports program.

Baseball Briefs from Training Camps

At Baltimore, Md.—Brooklyn (N) 5; New York (A) 2.
At Bluefield, W. Va.—New York (N) 6; Cleveland (A) 3.
At Cincinnati—Cincinnati (N) 9; Boston (A) 7.

At Winston-Salem, N. C.—Washington (A) 5; Detroit (A) 3 (7 innings).
At Fort Worth, Tex.—St. Louis (N) 12; Fort Worth (TL) 6 (12 innings).

At Oklahoma City, Okla.—Pittsburgh (N) 8; Philadelphia (A) 4.

Cincinnati—Among things to be noted about the Cincinnati Reds, baseball's world champions, is that they can hit if they have to.

During the current spring training junket the Reds have won and lost with few solid blows, but yesterday they huffed and they puffed for an even dozen which made nine runs. The Boston Red Sox were the other team with seven runs.

Even so, all but two of the Reds' runs came in the eighth inning, when the intimate gathering of 1,065 had all but called a taxi to go home.

In that inning 11 men went to bat six hit safely. Jimmy Gleason, who may be the better half of a deal that sent Billy Myers to the Chicago Cubs' Bench Warmers club, hit himself a two-run homer and Pep Young and Lonnie Frey each got a double.

St. Joseph, Mo.—Irritated because of the consistent bad weather and cancelled games on their exhibition schedule, the St. Louis Browns turned their wrath today toward St. Joseph of the Western association, latest addition to the Browns' farm system. Manager Fred Haney said his club was "not hitting together" due to the bad weather.

Goldboro, N. C.—Bill Hagy, whom the Phillies acquired from the Athletics, is proving a spark-plug to Doc Prothro's aggregation. He has provided extra base hits in the last four games, three of them home runs.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 10.—Their four-game winning streak snapped by a New York Giant victory at Bluefield, W. Va., the Cleveland Indians called on Jim Bagby today to put them back in the victory column.

The National leaguers triumphed yesterday, 6 to 3, at the expense of Al Smith. The veteran southpaw allowed only six hits in six innings, but three of them were home runs. Harry Eisenstat shut out the Giants with one hit in the final two innings.

79 Of 83 Writers Pick One Or Other To Finish First; Detroit Given Two Votes.

BY JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, April 10.—To the sports scribes who are accustomed to living out on a limb, the American league pennant race looks like a dead heat between the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees.

Seventy-nine of the 83 writers in major league cities who participated in the annual Associated Press check-up tabbed one or the other of these teams to finish first.

Forty chose Cleveland to come out on top and 39 liked the Yankees, but on the basis of 8 points for first place, 7 for second, 6 for third, etc., New York wound up one point ahead, 612 to 611.

It would only be fair to the average fans around the country to point out that these same experts, when canvassed last spring, voted 63 to 11 that the Yankees would win their fourth straight pennant and even these hardy dissenters could envisage nothing worse than second for the Bronx Bombers.

Of the four "wishful thinkers" who cast their first place glances beyond the Yanks and the Indians, two picked Detroit to repeat, one went for the Chicago White Sox and the other singled out the St. Louis Browns, of all people!

Results of the poll, including the number of votes for each team for each place and the total number of points figured on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Rollie Hemsley.

FIGHT BUSINESS BOOMS ONCE M

limited the Tribe to five hits, including a single and double by Rolfe Hemslay.

FIGHT BUSINESS BOOMS ONCE MORE
NEW YORK, April 10.—The liveliest looking dead thing around at this writing is the business of bashing heads.

They've been saying for years that boxing is dead. Well, with the $52,000-odd gate for the Joe Louis-Tony Musto fust in St. Louis Tuesday night, the fight game neared the million-and-a-half dollar mark for the nation's major attractions in this indoor season.

The thousands the armored car took out of St. Louis arena brought the total for Promoter Mike Jacobs' productions alone this season over the million-dollar mark. This includes his stopovers in Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis, as well as his own back yard, Madison Square Garden, which is having an indoor campaign paved with gold and reminiscent of Tex Rickard's fabulous heyday.

PENN'S REAGAN TO ENTER U. S. MARINES
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 10.—Frank Reagan, Penn's great football and baseball player, probably kissed $7,500 goodbye yesterday when he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps reserves.

Definitely big league timber as a catcher, he was reported to have been offered that amount as a bonus for signing with at least two major outfits. The Phillies were said to be one of them.

But Frank passed up a big league career to serve Uncle Sam and will enter the Marine basic school at the navy yard here in October for training. He already mailed in his draft questionnaire and figured he would be called up in July.

MOUNT PLANNING HIGH SCHOOL DAY

Noted Alumni To Confer With High Students April 19

ALLIANCE, April 10.—In an effort to encourage more careful vocational selections by graduating high school seniors who are about to enter college, a group of outstanding alumni of Mount Union college will appear on the campus to speak and to confer with students invited here for the annual High school day, April 19.

Students from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia will participate in campus activities on High school day. Vocational conference discussions which will make available advice and recommendations about various fields of work followed by college graduates will be held. Careers in business, science, teaching, social service and general college training as a preparation for other careers will be discussed.

Alumni To Speak

Among the noted alumni of Mount Union college who will advise the high school students are: Charles E. Cannon, personnel department, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron; B. Y. McCready, secretary of McConnell agency, Alliance; Dr. L. E. Seabell, director of research, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron; J. Max Lichty, M.D., Pittsburgh; Melvin S. Bixler, assistant superintendent of Stark county schools, Canton; B. E. Saffell, principal of Alliance High school; Sidney W. Jones, judge of the probate and juvenile courts, Trumbull county, Warren; Dr. Helen M. Kingsbury, psychiatrist, Painesville; Richard G. McCuskey, attorney, Canton; Mrs. Helen E. Shoemaker, Louisville, Ohio.

President Charles B. Ketcham and Dean Melvin W. Hyde, of the college, along with other members of the faculty, also will take an active part in the High school day proceedings. Students attending will register at Memorial hall from 10 to 10:30 a. m. At 10:30 a program will be held at Memorial hall, expressing the college's welcome to delegates.

After the welcoming address, a formal tour of the campus will be undertaken from 10:45 to 11:45 a. m. At the conclusion of the inspection tour, lunch will be served to visitors and speakers at various fraternity and sorority houses on the campus.

Special Music On Program

A special program of music by the famed Mount Union Madrigal Singers will be held from 1 to 1:45 p. m. in the college chapel. Vocational conference discussion groups will meet from 1:45 to 2:45 p. m. All departments and buildings of the college, many of them featuring special exhibits, will be open from 2:45 to 4:15 p. m. to provide an opportunity for inspection and further conferences.

A Civil Aeronautics Authority aviation exhibit will be held on the campus west of Lamborn hall. Educational sound motion pictures presenting biology, chemistry and physics will be offered in room 16 of Lamborn hall.

Concluding the day's activities a special All-College dance in honor of visiting High school seniors will be held in Memorial hall from 4:15 to 5:45 p. m. Alumni and teachers who wish to bring High school seniors to the college for High school day are requested to write Alumni Secretary Kenneth H. McFall and inform him of their plans.

She Wasn't Fooling

CHICAGO—When two men grabbed her mother's purse, Loretta Egan, 28, ran after them, shouting: "You'll be sorry! My father is a policeman!" Whereupon, the pair dropped the purse, its contents intact, and fled down an alley.

Loretta wasn't fooling either. Her father is a police captain.
